Weather Protections

Medical Protections

Disconnections will not take place if electric service is medically necessary to sustain the life of the person or prevent deterioration of the person's medical condition. Medical certificates can be issued by a licensed physician, a person licensed pursuant to the Osteopathic Initiative Act, a physician assistant, or a nurse practitioner.

If customers receive medical condition protections, they must enter into a payment agreement with their utility. Utilities will not delay shutoffs if customer notifies their utility that they intend to obtain a medical certificate.

Cal Pub Util Code § 779.3

Other Customer Protections

California requires electric utilities to delay disconnections for up to 180 days (extensions may be granted) to households where customers are military personnel. Utilities must also establish a repayment plan requiring minimum monthly payments that allows military personnel to pay any past due amounts over a reasonable period not to exceed one year after the service members release from active military duty.
